

Samantha Lissette

lives and works in Auckland

Bachelor of Art in Art History,
College of Art, Waikato
University

Samantha Lissette was born in Dunedin in 1970 and now lives and works in Auckland. Samantha creates fascinating sculptures out of traditional sculptural materials such as bronze. Initially trained in philosophy and art history Lissette has since devoted her time to the practical application of 3D sculpture.

Lissette worked under practitioners such as Ann Robinson and Falu Feu'u where she gained insight and inspiration in various art making procedures. In 2001 she was made a member of the prestigious NZ Medallion Group a great honour worthy of Lissette's great talent.
